

"Fogel's sharp comedic writing and performance will make you think about your own relationships! A remarkably funny show with lots of heart!"

~Chazz Palminteri ~ Actor/Director (A Bronx Tale, The Usual Suspects, Bullets Over Broadway)

"... a surprising theatrical gem!" ~KPFK Radio

"...Fogel's skill at sustaining the precariously balanced mix of comedy and drama is impressive." ~Entertainment Today

Comedy Icon Lily Tomlin once said, "If love is the answer, could you rephrase the question?" And that's exactly what Peter Fogel's hysterical multi-media one man show, "Til Death Do Us Part... You First" investigates for 90 minutes of non-stop heartfelt laughs.

With his gift of portraying different characters and voices, critics describe Fogel's fast-paced comedic journey as Dickens' "Christmas Carol" meets "Defending the Caveman!"

It's Valentine's Day and Fogel is visited by a "Surprise Guest" who holds a mirror up to his failed romances! From stressful on-line dating ... to dealing with his own demons and dysfunctional family, Baby-Boomer Fogel is simply a "Love Scrooge" stuck in "Manolescence!"

Hilariously self-destructive, our hapless lothario takes us on a roller coaster ride of his neurosis as he wonders if he's doomed for the eternal single life!

If you're single, married, or divorced ... if the opposite sex frustrates you and you need to burn off calories laughing at the absurdity of relationships, love, and marriage – then Peter Fogel's "Til Death Do Us Part... You First" is the perfect elixir for an eye-opening evening of entertaining and hysterical theater.

The NY Post says, "Fogel is the single's man, single man. He tells such poignant and funny stories about being single in the city... one wants to go out and find him a suitable mate!"
